Storms cause flooding here

The Quad-City area has had its share of flooding thus far in June, causing flooded streets and yards and other water-related problems.

The area was drenched with an unofficial three and three-tenths inches of rain this month, with the heaviest accumulation of two and six-tenths inches hitting early Friday morning. Another half-inch of rain wetted the already-saturated ground last night and this morning.

The unusually heavy rainfall unleashed its mini-torrent of local flooding in streets, basements and backyards, according Mac Warfield, superintendent of streets. Street department employees worked Friday evening and all day Saturday to try to keep the drainage situation under control.

Warfield said flooded streets in the West Pontoon-Briarcliff area, soaked basements on Colgate Place and over-worked sewer pumps were among the worst problems facing his crews during the weekend.

Other residents reported flooded basements on Garfield Avenue and swamped yards on Northridge.

As in the past, West Pontoon Road, located near the city's new Briarcliff drainage pond, had to be blocked off, according to Warfield. He said the continued problem, despite the drainage pond, will be the basis for a meeting between him and City Engineer Monroe Brewer.

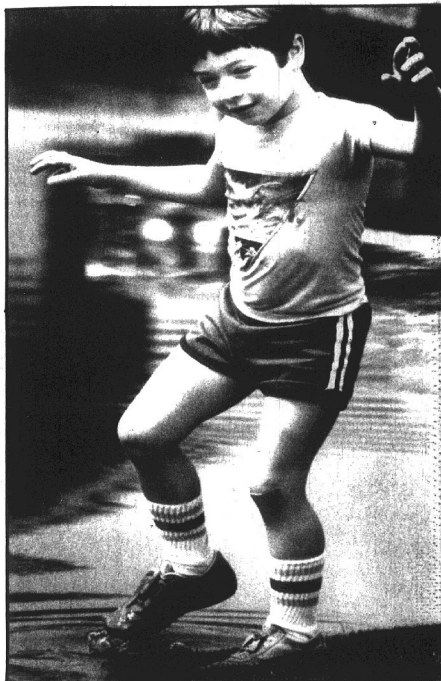

Warfield said the pond filled with water this weekend and apparently reached a point when it could no longer accept water. The matter then is complicated, Warfield said, because "you can't pump out the pond until the water goes down (in the surrounding lines)." Overloaded water lines also were the most likely cause for flooded basements in about four homes on Colgate Place, the superintendent said. He reminds residents to keep their basement drainage holes plugged during rain storms.

Water crept more than 35 feet into backyards facing a concrete ditch that runs along the back of Northridge. Sixth Ward Alderman Stephen Saltich reported. The water soaked at least one storage shed and some gardens.

Resident Donald Conley, 2504 Northridge, said overflows from the con-

GC Council struggles to balance budget

By GEORGEANN MCGEE of the Press-Record

The Granite City Council finance committee is in the process of sorting budget "probables" from the "probably nots," giving a tentative "thumbs-up" to emergency ambulances and police equipment and "thumbs-down" to word processing computer and annual department head expense allowances.

Second Ward Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman, new finance committee chairman, discussed the choices during a meeting of his committee attended by several council members.

The committee is weighing the worth of items on a "wish list" of additional 1984 budget considerations not covered by last year's budget.

While the committee did not recommend a new full-time building inspector, as requested by City Engineer Monroe Brewer, the members expressed interest in a suggestion to hire two part-time summer inspectors. Schuman said the city is reluctant to hire more employees, but it is conceivable the new positions may pay for themselves through inspection fees. "It might bring added revenue and stop people building unsafe structures," Schuman said. If approved by the council, the two part-time inspectors would work for three months for about $4.88 an hour.

In the past, the city engineer has said his department was understaffed. The department has since regained a secretary.

The committee did not endorse requested expense allowances for Brewer nor the city traffic engineer, although Brewer said in a preliminary budget session that the move could save the city.

...treatment budget is still a problem

By GEORGEANN MCGEE of the Press-Record

The Granite City pollution plant committee last week poured over several feet of computer budget printouts revealing a $3 million preliminary wastewater treatment plant budget.

The committee recessed two hours later, before it had time to completely wade through the entire fourth 1983-84 budget revision that is a half-million dollars more than previous budget estimates.

Both committee members and plant Superintendent Terrance McMillan agree the latest figure will have to be trimmed.

The committee will meet again at 7 p.m. Tuesday to resume its review and weigh various cuts. Members also will consider asking the council to approve bids for a tractor truck needed to haul sludge. The vehicle would replace three smaller trucks from the city's aging fleet not expected to be able to make the trip to the newly-contracted Belleville landfill.

McMillan said that without the second tractor trailer, the plant's sludge production would marginally exceed the lone truck's disposal capabilities, even under ideal conditions. The excess sludge could be temporarily stockpiled but would eventually spill out into the Mississippi River, in violation of the state pollution standards, according to the superintendent.

Free bus service next week

The Madison County Transit District is sponsoring a full week of free rides on Bi-State buses for county residents from June 13 through June 19. The free ride week coincides with the introduction of Alton Bussle service, the new name for local Bi-State bus service in the greater Alton area.

The purpose of the free ride promotion is to allow people who don't normally ride the bus, an incentive to try the service. Bi-State's market research shows that people who do ride the bus or have at least tried the service have a much higher opinion of public transportation than those who have never ridden a bus.

A spokesman for Madison County, which is underwriting the cost of the promotion, said, "If only a very small percentage of those who try the free ride become regular bus riders, the promotion will easily pay for itself."

The free rides include all Bi-State routes serving Madison County, Illinois.

Persons riding these lines will not be required to pay bus fare or zone charges. No transfers will be issued on

Shrine Parade is tonight, circus to follow

This evening is the evening to which thousands of Quad-City area youngsters look forward every year, the Aina Shrine Circus Parade in Granite City.

Those viewing the parade are being asked to stand along Madison Avenue between Niedringhaus Avenue and 30th Street. There has been a change of route this year and the parade will not go onto Nameoki Road. Persons who traditionally watch the parade from Belmore Village Shopping Center should find a new location or be disappointed this year, as Nameoki Road will be kept open for normal traffic flow. The parade, which starts at 7:30 tonight, will begin at Niedringhaus Avenue and State Street and will proceed to Madison Avenue and on Madison Avenue to 30th Street, where it will turn and disband.

Eighty-three units, including bands, marchers, motorized units, floats and others, are signed up for the parade. Aina has several of its special units, including the brass band, dignitaries, Aina 400 Motor Patrol, Oriental Band, Hospital Unit, Drum & Bugle Corps, Keystone Kops and others, in the parade lineup.

The Granite City High School South Band also will provide music. The parade, of course, heralds the arrival of the annual Shrine Circus, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Tri-City Speedway on Route 203 (Nameoki Road) north of Granite City and just south of Interstate 270.

Featured acts include: lion tamer Ada Smiley; the James Zoppe group of Roisinback Riders and their medieval joust with swords and armor; the Kneisley Duo, an aerial cradle act, including the helicopter spin and neck hang; the traditional Shrine Circus Elephant will show their talents and humor will come from Sir Chadwick Chase and his "Rolls Rotten" car.

The Wind Troupe will walk the inclined high wire, Yo-Ho the Clown will perform his antics, Melle Marleen will perform the deadly neck slide from a cable, the Astros will offer acrobatics upon a motorcycle suspended high in the sky on a dingle steel cable. Sweden's comedy sensation on the trampoline, the Karinas, will perform, the Dolly Sisters will perform in the triple cradle and there will be many other acts "to thrill and dazzle everyone attending," said a Shrine spokesman.

Tickets will be on sale at the speedway or may be purchased from any Shriner.

A $3 ticket will admit one adult or two children, up to the age of 12, to the circus. Children ages 2 and younger will be admitted free.

TIME and the R SYMBOL

In the days before type and the craft of printing, all recorded words were transcribed by hand. It was a laborious task. To speed it, short cuts or symbols were developed to cut down repetitious words. Thus the symbol for Pharmacy was born. The R with a slash across the tail is from the Latin word Receptarius meaning "to receive" as in instructions from a Physician to a Pharmacist.

Suzuki Strings going to Iceland, Sweden

The 1983 international tour of the Suzuki Strings of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will see the group visit two other countries. Under the direction of John Kendall, professor of music, 14 young musicians will visit Iceland and Sweden, June 29-30.

Members include Kimberly Asbeck of Granite City. The Suzuki Strings will be the subject of a television program to be produced June 8-9 in Reykjavik, Iceland, by Bernard Gudmundsen. A former student under Prof. Kendall, the group will give performances and workshops June 10-14 in Gothenburg, Sweden, and June 14-20 in Akureyri, Iceland.

Kendall has taught five graduate students from Sweden and two from Iceland. Others have come from Israel, Brazil, Germany, Ireland and Malaysia.

Purpose of the tour is to share with teachers, students and parents of other lands some of the talent education principles in musical training developed by Shinichi Suzuki.

The method is based on an assumption that all human beings are born with the capacity for developing to a very high level, and that musical ability is not inherited but developed following birth.

Linda Perry of SIUE's piano faculty will be the accompanist for the tour. She has been the official accompanist at the International Suzuki Institute at Amherst and the American Suzuki Institute at Stevens Point.

The tour will be coordinated by Carol Smith. Her responsibilities are scheduling lessons and handling business and financial matters. She has been active as a faculty member in many summer Suzuki workshops.

Members on the tour will have the opportunity to meet students from other cultures and backgrounds, and to exchange experiences.

Moderation under the sun

By GERALDINE BOWER
Ph.D., Extension Adviser
As June skies turn blue, you may find yourself among the millions who pursue a tan with single-minded intensity.

But as you head for the pool, beach or backyard with tanning lotion and a good book, don't forget to take along your common sense. Good judgment can go a long way in protecting you and family members against sunburn, heat exhaustion and sunstroke.

Take sun in small doses at first, increasing exposure gradually. Remember that while suntan lotions may give you some protection from burning, they are no substitute for moderation.

If, despite your good intentions, you or a member of your family gets too much sun, Ordie Hogsett, University of Illinois Extension safety specialist, warns not to automatically assume that the condition is not serious.

Although cold cream or a burn ointment may seem to relieve the pain of reddened skin and blisters in mild cases, a dry dressing and professional medical attention are necessary for severely blistered and burned skin. Heat exhaustion — indictated by pale, cold, clammy skin, heavy perspiration and shallow breathing — can result from too much work or play in extreme heat.

To prevent it, stay as cool as possible and drink plenty of water. To treat it, place the victim in the shade or other cool spot, and give sips of a mild salt solution while you wait for professional help.

Overexposure to both sun and heat can cause sunstroke, the most serious of all the heat-related conditions.

Sunstroke — also known as heatstroke — results when the body is unable to cool itself sufficiently. Symptoms include flushed, hot, dry skin; high body temperature; severe headache; slow, noisy breathing; and loss of consciousness.

If you suspect sunstroke, call a physician immediately. While you wait, raise the victim's head slightly, loosen his or her clothes, and sponge the skin with alcohol or lukewarm water.

Writing awards to GC students

The Gifted Area Service Center regional writing talent search has been completed for this school year. A panel of 18 judges read 258 pieces of writing from 33 school districts in 14 counties.

Of 61 manuscripts submitted for grades 1-3, the judges selected four winners. Grades 4-6 submitted 121 manuscripts with six winners chosen.

The 7-9 category submitted manuscripts, out of which the judges selected eight winners and the 10-12 category yielded 29 manuscripts with four winners.

Prize honorable mention awards went to two Granite Cityans, Ben Tegel of the second grade and Cassie Easley of the fifth grade.

President, public praise Todoroff

The gathering of 323 that saluted Bert Bung Todoroff as an outstanding international good will ambassador for the local community and for the nation did not include President Ronald Reagan in person. But the president was here in spirit, and he dictated and signed a letter that was read at the dinner.

Todoroff retired as Granite City High School North band director with the closing of that school at the end of the 1983 spring semester.

Pres. Reagan commented, "Congratulations on your retirement. Nancy and I are pleased to join your friends and admirers in sending our best wishes."

"There is nothing so heartwarming as a tribute to those who know you and who wish to say 'thank you.'"

"You work with the Granite City students has reflected dedication and accomplished what you have done. Your contributions to your community."

"May the years to come be filled with health and happiness. God bless you. Sincerely, Ronald Reagan."

Todoroff, a teacher for 33 years, organized tours of Mexico for local student ensembles whose Latin American rhythmic music won countless thousands of enthusiastic fans "south of the border." Many reviewers said the music was authentic to an almost unbelievable degree.

Presented an Apple IIIE computer as a retirement gift by his friends, he said he plans to use it in writing a textbook on the teaching of Latin American music.

The computer showed its versatility by playing a North school song.

Steel industry consultant Lillian B. Green, North Principal Gilbert V. Waindley and Madison County Regional School Supt. Harold E. "Gene" Briggs were the principal speakers at the retirement banquet.

Talks also were given by: Paul Bowler, Bowler Trucking Co., president; Dr. William Breidenbach, chairman of North High's counseling department; Mrs. Linda Froemling Bristol, a former member and accompanist of the Granite City Junior High music ensemble; Warren Friedman, a St. Louis attorney who has been a student in Todoroff's classes; Ruth Huxel, who was a chaperone on the Mexico journey; William F. Winter of the Press-Record; and Mrs. Wilma Bowen, North High Band Parents president.

David Melton served as toastmaster. Presentations were made by the City of Granite City, the Tri-City Shrine Club, Mrs. Bowen and Alan Jorgensen.

Mrs. Shirley Adams sang "My Way," with lyrics adapted to Todoroff, and there was dance music afterward.

As Todoroff greeted those arriving, he displayed "total recall" in remembering the names of parents and former members of classes dating back many years.

Later, in his closing remarks, the band director recognized and praised many members of the audience, detailing their contributions to him and to Granite City and GCMS North. He voiced special praise for a number of school personnel, including Principal Waindley.

The retirement party committee consisted of Jo Anne Gaumer, Jo Graham, Bonnie Bone and Charlie Bone.

County parks transfer plan has problems

A plan to transfer ownership or control to private and public groups of six parks owned by Madison County has been stopped, for the time being.

In March, the county board approved the plan, which allows townships, municipalities and private clubs to assume maintenance or title of the parks.

Declining county income and increasing maintenance costs were considered when the plan was passed and various public and private groups supported the idea.

Now, however, county officials say that some groups have not followed their initial intentions and seem less eager to go with the plan.

The buildings committee has agreed to transfer control of Mitchell Park, on Maryville Road in Mitchell, to the Metro-East Sanitary District, the original owner. Control of other parks is less certain.

A nature trail that leads from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to Pontoon Beach is one site in question: Officials at SIUE found the county's plan to transfer control of the six-mile trail unacceptable.

The trail, owned by the Norfolk & Western Railway, begins in Edwardsville and continues through the SIUE campus before ending locally.

The county leases the land from the railroad and hoped that SIUE would take control because the trail is used by many students, particularly those who live in Tower Lake Apartments.

SIUE officials did agree to consider alternatives and county officials said they would discuss the plans with the university's physical facilities committee.

A plan for Moro Township or Bethalto to take over Moro Park has been halted because county officials say that township does not want the land. Bethalto officials have not contacted the county since February, county officials say.

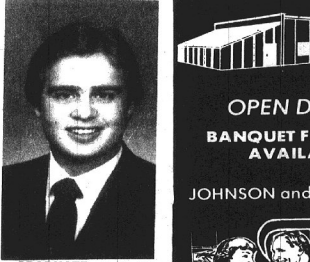

Residents near the park say that maintenance work has virtually stopped and vandalism in the park has increased.

The Quercus Grove Rural Club was to take over Quercus Grove Park near Hamei, but that plan hit a snag when county officials started to prepare the contract. It was found that the club is a profit-making organization. For the lease to be assumed, groups assuming deed must be not-for-profit.

County officials hope to save $22,000 a year in maintenance costs by transferring ownership or control of the parks.

Suggests ways to dispose of pets

(Guest editorial by the Association for the Protection of Animals, Inc.)

In response to your editorial of June 2 concerning the dumping and elimination of pets from the Kirkpatrick homes complex, the Association for Protection of Animals has already begun aiding families needing to relocate their pets.

Our organization has been working toward the completion of an animal shelter for many years. We rely solely on donations from the general public. With continued support from our community, the building will be completed this year.

Although we could not possibly house all the Kirkpatrick pets, even if our shelter were open, we would like to make suggestions as to the options open to pet owners:

1.—Call our APA number 877-4594 and place the pet in the adoption list. Calls are taken on weekday evenings and weekends. Several pets already have been placed from the Kirkpatrick area through our adoption list. One grateful woman called to thank us as she was delighted to have her new dog.

2.—Advertise the pet in the Classified Section of the Press-Record under the "Pets" heading.

3.—Check with family members and friends living outside Kirkpatrick. Offer to help pay the cost of feeding the pet while it is in a "foster home."

4.—The Humane Society of St. Louis, 1210 Mackland Ave., 1-814-647-8900, accepts animals 24 hours a day. The animal will have a chance of adoption and will receive humane care, although many must be destroyed.

5.—Pets may be taken to the Granite City humane office on Highway 67 (Missouri Avenue), phone 452-6233. We understand conditions there already are very overcrowded.

Under no circumstances should pets be dumped in outlying areas. Dogs and cats face a very inhumane death when allowed to be hit by a car, starve or become ill.

We support Mr. Morgan (David Morgan, executive director of the Granite City Housing Authority) in his attempt to alleviate a problem that has taken years to develop. Our organization sympathizes, however, with older individuals who have had small house pets for years. One woman we spoke to is desperate to find a home for a male chihuahua. "This little dog is all I've got!" she said. Anyone interested in adopting this pet is urged to call the APA number.

In addition to the suggestions listed above, the APA would like to make three further suggestions in the hope that this problem might be lessened:

We would like to recommend that the deadline to have pets removed from Kirkpatrick be extended at least one month. This would give the owners and the APA more time to help find suitable homes rather than the dumping and destroying of victimized pets.

As a public service, we would like to suggest the Press-Record offer a one-time only free advertisement for people in Kirkpatrick Homes.

We would like to further suggest the people of Granite City open their homes to adopt, temporarily house, or help seek homes for some of the Kirkpatrick animal population.

If only one pet is saved, our efforts have not been in vain. Donations may be sent to Post Office Box 1311, Granite City. We wish to thank the Press-Record for its past support.

Decide on state's revenue now

It was interesting to learn Friday from House Speaker Michael Madigan that Illinois legislators expect to get around to 1983-84 tax and revenue proposals "in the final three or four days" of this month and this General Assembly session.

As the speaker well knows, June 27, 28, 29 and 30 are the most hectic days—and nights—at Springfield each year. There is no way representatives and senators can give much calm, alert attention then to finances or any other issue. It could be dealt with much better now or in mid-month.

Legislators today have all the background facts, pro and con. Delay will not make their ultimate decision any more informed.

If there is majority support for higher taxation, an admittedly unpopular position, it will not matter to angry voters in 1984 whether their legislators took action in early or late June; the effective date in either case would be July 1.

What will matter is how well the legislators acted or reacted, and whether they overreacted. Again, the best route to follow can be deciphered now with a clear head, with the least dead-end pressure.

Undoubtedly, waiting until the last possible moment appeals to legislative leaders because they think it will provide them with the greatest bargaining power to accomplish some of their other pet proposals.

But we think it is a mistake in this case, too much is at stake for too many governmental bodies. Unforeseen deadlocks could cause the Assembly leaders and members to miscalculate. Time could run out, without adequate financial plans having been made for the coming year. Regrouping in September or October would not be a satisfactory alternative.

If "wheeling and dealing" are unavoidable, in fulfillment of the belief that "politics is the art of compromise," then the deliberations might as well take place immediately.

Legislative leaders, don't be slow-footed. A lot of Illinoisans are likely to equate it with being slow-witted.

4 or 5-word name for school?

Students' recommendation for the name of the combined high school in District Nine is Granite City Senior High School.

With full respect to the student council members who have devoted so much time to getting the merged school off to a good start this fall (when the North building will become a college), the Board of Education could better implement the spirit, if not the letter, of their proposal by deleting the word Senior.

If memory serves, the district used to have a Granite City High School and the Granite City Community High School. In 1973, the school at Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road was renamed Granite City High School.

Soft-drink co. playing hard ball

During World War II, our Navy had a toast: "Here's to the Japanese navy. Bottoms up!" Well, the bottlers of that bubbly drink called Seven-Up have a similar toast going these days, too — for Coca-Cola, Pepsi and other competitors. It is the equivalent of "Here's mud in your eye!"

Seven-Up, number three in soft-drink sales, has escalated its war on numbers one and two in a new advertising campaign. It flat-out knocks the competitors' products, a kind of advertising that used to be taboo but now is apparently proving effective.

Seven-Up tells how pure its product is, minus any artificial coloring and flavor and, heaven forbid, caffeine — like you know who.

South at the same time Granite City High School North was being established.

Coolidge and Grigsby will operate as junior high schools in 1983-84 but it is highly unlikely that the high school will be combined with them. When Illinois was creating several dozen junior colleges, there was no rush to change other colleges' names to "senior."

Surgery is about to be performed to sever the word South from the remaining high school's name. We see no need or rationale to implant or transplant the word Senior at that time.

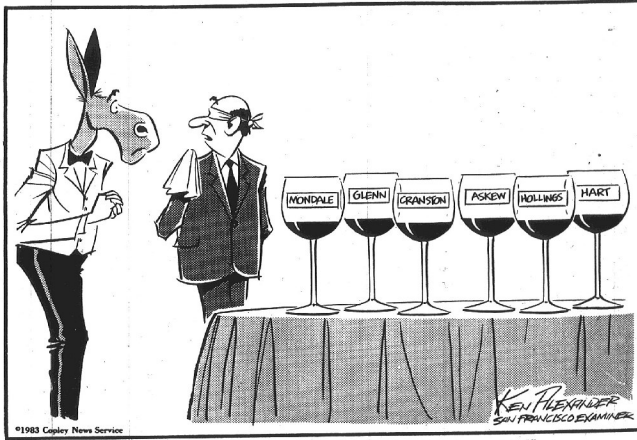

It's tough enough to fit a four-word school name into a headline, fellows.

Parents can make school transition succeed

In a new commercial, the actor Geoffrey Holder, a big man with a Caribbean accent, tells of the purity of Seven-Up. In the absence of caffeine, "Never had it, Never will." A gaggle of children gather around, eager to quench their thirst for the bubbly product. "Ah, marvelous!"

Coca-Cola, on the other hand, is livid. It has mailed letters to its 2,000 bottlers across the nation alerting them to what it considers to be Seven-Up's dirty tricks. It sees Seven-Up's campaign as detrimental to the industry. Surely, it has its top brains working on a counterattack.

How will it all end, this trench warfare for millions of consumer dollars? Watch for battle reports.

Resents court fee on city auto license fine

To the Editor:
I recently had the unfortunate experience of being cited for a ticket due to not having purchased a city sticker on time. The total cost for this miscalculation was $50.

Fifteen dollars of this total charge was for "other costs." That, in turn, meant court costs. I did not exercise my option for a hearing, and yet was charged that amount anyway.

Fifteen dollars to have a judge sit in an empty courtroom to explain why he is sitting in an empty courtroom. That is automaticity.

That judge may well have been a vending machine in city hall and require people to pay him $15 every time someone passed by. That is what automaticity actually is.

His services were not necessary, as there was no gray area to be disputed. One either purchased a city sticker on time or one didn't. Any exceptions could be placed on the docket.

More appropriately, he was a vending machine that was "out of order," as he did not work.

A legitimate business cannot survive charging for services not rendered. Why should this judge, and why should that court? He even had the audacity not to offer to wash my car or my clothes as any self-respecting automaton would.

In short, these additional and hidden "other costs" will continue to be attached to more and more government paperwork.

It is a policy that has been perpetuated and will continue to seep into more areas. Unfortunately, it will not remain static, but will grow bigger and larger.

To the public, I suggest you vote for representatives that actively seek out and publicly denounce this and other similar practices. And make it known that that is what is expected of them.

Says paper overlooked closing of South High

To the Editor:
I am concerned with the coverage of the school closures, mainly the high schools. On the front page of the Tuesday, May 31, paper, it showed a North student hugging another student after North's graduation.

The caption read: "Goodbye to North." A student, a large enough to give them the freedom to choose and make decisions. North was truly a "family school."

Vic Buehler, Gib Wainsley, Lucy Stucke, Ron Dillard, John VanBuskirk, Gus Lignoul, Harry Cook and Peggy Ellis were especially instrumental in the development of my children.

I have heard the saying, "When life gives you a lemon, make lemonade." With this in mind, I'm sure the staff and student bodies from our combined high schools will achieve a grand tradition and spirit.

We, as parents, will need to help our children adjust, just as the new faculty will be adjusting.

Our attitude must be positive in order for the transition to be positive.

I urge all parents of high school students to do their best in the interest of their children to keep an open mind and attitude during the next school year. Singly, we may feel we are not doing very much. But collectively, we can expect only good results from a positive approach.

To all at North, may health, happiness and success be yours in the future. North High School will be missed.

Record crowd expected at Scott open house Saturday

Officials at Scott Air Force Base expect a record crowd for their annual Open House Saturday, June 11. One of the reasons for this prediction is the scheduled appearance of the space shuttle orbiter Enterprise, which will be on display during the open house hours of 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Admission to the event is free.

The main attraction at the open house this year is the Air Force aerial demonstration team the Thunderbirds, which will perform its airshow at 3:30 p.m. flying new F-16 "Falcon" aircraft. This will be the first performance of the Thunderbirds at Scott AFB since June, 1981.

The U.S. Army Golden Knights parachute jump team will perform at 11 a.m. and again at 2:15 p.m. Their routines include a "mass exit" jump where all members depart the aircraft at the same time and a patriotic jump highlighted by the unfurling of the American flag.

Approximately 45 aircraft will be on display, including the world's largest aircraft the C-5 Galaxy. Many vintage World War II aircraft will be open to the viewing public in addition to various military planes scheduled to be at the event. One of the most advanced fighter aircraft in the Air Force inventory, the F-15 Eagle, is scheduled to arrive at noon and be put on display until the open house concludes.

Also scheduled are performances by the Air Force Band of Mid-America, the Scott AFB precision drill team and a demonstration by a local radio-controlled airplane club. Big Brothers, model clubs, Civil Air Patrol, veterans' groups and other similar agencies.

A variety of food and refreshment items will be on sale at the event in addition to souvenir items such as T-shirts and other novelties. A continuous schedule of events is planned from 10 a.m. until the Thunderbirds perform.

Scott officials request that visitors carpool whenever possible, due to the large crowd anticipated. Buses arriving at Scott AFB on June 11 will be parked in a lot close to the demonstration area and will be given priority access to exit routes when the open house concludes. For information about bus arrivals and parking, interested persons may call 1-256-3674.

Additional facts concerning the open house may be obtained by calling 1-256-3935.

COMING TO SCOTT AFB. The space shuttle Enterprise, shown here attached to its Boeing 747 transporter, will be on display at the Scott Air Force Base open house Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Channel 9 starts membership drive

KETC-Channel 9 could receive a $21,379 grant from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting if the station can raise $64,138 in additional membership revenue in fiscal year 1983. The fiscal year ends June 30.

The CPB has committed $4 million in challenge grants to help public TV stations nationwide recoup funds lost through federal cutbacks. Channel 9 will receive $1 from the CPB for every $3 raised in excess of 1982's total membership revenue. The $21,379 figure represents a grant ceiling that may be raised if KETC earns more than $64,138, and other PBS stations earn less than their individual grant ceilings.

Channel 9 is asking viewers to help "Meet the Challenge" posed by the CPB during a special membership drive. House passes bills to aid roads, utility users, elderly

The passage of HB 1305 would make an additional $30 million a year available for highway repair and construction by raising the gasoline tax by 5¢ cents over the next three years and also raising the registration fees for cars and trucks. This bill would prohibit diversion of these new funds to non-highway uses, and establish a special road construction fund so the new revenues would be used exclusively for construction and maintenance.

Assurances have been received from Illinois Secretary of Transportation John Kramer that needed projects in our 11th District will be funded if this legislation is signed into law.

I am disappointed that the legislation does not give more money to local government. In fact, the legislation reverses the distribution formula, giving only 30 percent of the increased motor fuel tax funds to the local level. The deteriorating condition of Illinois highways demands passage of this legislation.

Treatment budget

manic debates that have delayed a revision of the user fee. Last month, Mayor Paul Schuler asked the council to wait a few more weeks before setting new fees, until the state gives some indication if Glen Carbon and the Metro-East Sanitary District systems will link to the Granite City plant.

The current residential and commercial fees coming into the plant apparently have not been able to support required fund reserves, intended to back up bonds used to build the plant, or to provide for major plant repairs currently being planned by the state.

The city also has been under constant pressure from Columbian Securities, Inc. in Chicago to fund the plant bond reserves. The firm sold some of those bonds to its clients. The council disagrees with warnings by the firm that continuing non-funding of the reserves could affect the city's credit or future sale of bonds. (The city is expected to need $2 to $3 million in bonds for correcting deficiencies and repairing aging equipment at the plant.)

Among the budget areas that were discussed by Aldermen Varadian and Carl Kittel, Third Ward, were the hiring of two new plant employees, providing training funds for employees and making repairs at the plant.

Varadian said he wants to go on the record as opposing the hiring of an assistant superintendent and truck mechanic, as recommended by the recent CHS Clark Dietz Engineers Division study. Disagreeing was Kittel, who thought the council had committed itself to follow the engineering report.

McMillan tentatively recommends an administrative assistant be hired for approximately $14,000 annually, as opposed to hiring an assistant superintendent, who would cost the city $30,000 or more a year. He estimates the mechanic's salary at $22,000.

The superintendent said the administrative assistant could be in charge of a computer preventive maintenance program that would monitor and help determine the most economical means to replace equipment.

Both aldermen believe tuition funds should be provided for plant workers to attend classes on wastewater plant operations. McMillan recommends all plant lead operators be required to attend such training sessions.

Other expenses given support by the committee are:

— Hiring a full-time janitor for the city hall.

— Purchasing $8,000 of fire hose.

— Buying a pick-up truck, tractor and mower for a combined total of $36,500.

— Installing a contract for leasing sewer bills, estimated to cost $30,000 to $50,000.

Operation CARE is commended

"Operation CARE" (Combined Accident Reduction Effort) was an outstanding success, according to Captain Bobby L. Henry Sr., commander of Illinois State Police District 11 at Collinsville. During the Memorial Day Holiday Period, District 11, which encompasses the counties of Madison, St. Clair, Clinton, Monroe, and Bond, had no traffic fatalities.

There were nine fatalities statewide during the holiday period, but none occurred on designated "CARE" highways.

So far this year, 547 persons have lost their lives on Illinois highways, compared with 562 for the same period last year, a decrease of 15.

In the five-county area of District 11 there were 12 fatalities during the month of May. Madison County had five, St. Clair County had three, Bond County had three, Monroe County had one and Clinton County had none.

SPECIAL GIFT. Larry L. Beyer Sr., president of the Granite City Jaycees, presents a check for $5,000 to Scout Executive Bill Monical of the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council. Madison schools have celebration

Senior citizens, service organizations, individuals and parents were honored recently at a "Physical Education Celebration" given by the students of Harris School who represented the students, faculty, administration, and Board of Education of Madison Community Unit District No. 12.

All those donating materials or labor to the support physical education project were honored. The project began in February of the 1981-82 school year and culminated in the celebration.

The project began because of the concern for the health of all children. "Family Weekly" magazine stated that one American child in five fails to pass a simple test measuring the minimum strengths and skills necessary to master and enjoy ordinary games. Studies have shown that children spend on the average from 15 to 30 hours a week watching television, compared with about two hours in planned physical activity.

Madison Schools that every child becomes a winner, officials stressed.

The Harris School children, under the tutelage of the faculty, honored the volunteers and guests by demonstrating physical education movement using the donated equipment.

Demonstrations were given by the Early Childhood class, Donna Reeves, teacher, in song exercise; E.M.H., Loretta Cook, teacher, wagon wheel - yard balls; kindergarten, Mary Medley, teacher, children's colonial dance; first grade, Rosie Fields, teacher, rhythm with yarn balls; first grade, Catherine Hildebrand and Shirley Loy, teachers, exercises to music; first grade, Norma Oram, teacher, hot potato; second grade, Jerry Jackson, teacher, record exercises; second grade, Patricia Rupert, teacher, pass the bean bag; third grade, Lois Brazil, teacher, thinking broomsticks; and third grade, Rita Barnhart, teacher, parachute.

Individuals receiving certificates were A. C. Ware, Eleanor Weber, Annette Stultz, and Patricia Lee. Certificates and a plaque of appreciation for dedicated and outstanding service were given to Janet Shultz, Lucille Whiteside, Frances Baker, and Ann Riddle.

Minnie Dobbs was given a special plaque honoring her for her many hours of sincere service and dedication to the children of Madison from Dolores Folkerts, curriculum director of the Madison Public Schools.

At the end of the program, helium balloons were released in celebration. Names and addresses were attached requesting a reply to determine each balloon's final resting place.

These facts led the Madison School District to develop a plan to help students learn the joy of having and keeping good health.

There was a district workshop for all teachers emphasizing individualized learning at his or her own rate, developing good self-concepts in the area of movement. Curriculum guides were furnished for all teachers kindergarten through fifth grade. An additional workshop concerned with good nutrition was held for the teachers.

Physical education equipment was needed to support the obtaining of equipment had to be creative, school officials said. All of the community was asked to get involved donating materials or money, and making inexpensive equipment.

Parents donated broomstick handles, rug yarn, cloth scraps, beans, old tennis balls, and money. The Madison Junior Service Club gave $25 used for crocheted thread to the yarn balls; the Madison Policemen's Benevolent Society, $90 for rug yarn; and Amvets Post 204, $244 for parachutes.

The senior citizen volunteers of Madison and Venice made 223 yarn balls. Senior citizen workers were: Minnie Dobbs, Ann Riddle, Francis Baker, Lucille Whiteside, Patricia Lee, Annette Stultz, and Eleanor Weber.

Janet Shultz, secretary-bookkeeper for the Madison Schools, made and taught the volunteers how to make the yarn balls. One hundred and fifty-seven bean bags were made by Minnie Dobbs.

The volunteers worked at weekly meetings and some worked at home. The yarn balls and bean bags were completed in March. A volunteer from the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, A.C. Ware, sanded the broomstick handles. The equipment was given to each teacher of a self-contained classroom Early Childhood through fifth grade for use in the daily physical education classes.

Due to the combined efforts of all citizens, parents, and faculty, every child can develop at his or her own rate, building good self-concept in the area of movement. It is the goal of the

Gallagher edges MHC-Mendoza in Cup finale

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Sports Editor

BLOOMINGTON, IND. — It was an excellent weekend for soccer. The only way it could have been any better was if MHC-Mendoza of Granite City had emerged the Midwest Regional here Sunday as champions.

As it was, the Mexican Honorary Commission-Mendoza Sporting Goods sponsored team, finished runner-up to Scott Gallagher, the Missouri state champions. Gallagher defeated the local club 1-0 at the University of Indiana's "Little 500" field to win the Midwest Regional championship of the McGuire Cup. The second place finish is the best ever for a Granite City boys' team, and would systematically give them an eighth place finish nationally.

"It was a great game which could have gone either way," said MHC Coach Ruben Mendoza, who, despite the loss, seemed content with the outcome. Mendoza was happy because his team battled through the final game with all the poise of a marathoner in a 10 kilometer race.

"These two teams were so evenly matched that the one who scored first would probably go on and win. I just wish it were us who scored first. It really means a lot to score the first goal," Mendoza said.

Mendoza said historically, when his team goes ahead early they play better because they're more relaxed with an established lead.

"It's always nice to establish a lead, but, too, scoring first helps break the ice," Mendoza said.

"If we had scored first we might've won. The same was true for them. They scored first and it worked to their advantage. They played well and so did we. Our guys should be very proud. They played tough against a very fine ball club."

The victory earns the St. Louis soccer club a berth in the national championship, in Omaha, Neb., in two weeks, June 18 and 19.

The Granite City club earned its way to the Midwest Regional with a 1-0 season record and a 5-2 semifinal victory over Ohio-North on Saturday. Gallagher, 11-2-4 going into the championship match, earned a spot in Sunday's finale with a 3-0 victory over a much younger Kansas City, Kan., in the other semifinal match.

The regional semifinal games were good ones, but somehow, after a 1-0 ebb and flow championship match, the semifinal matches the day before seemed considerably less important.

In short, Sunday's championship match was amateur soccer at its best. The two under 19 teams battled through more than 54 minutes of scoreless, undominated play before Gallagher scored the game's only goal.

Following a 9-0 deadlock at halftime, Gallagher went ahead at the 54:22 mark when Missouri's Tim Hylla, a midfielder, pushed a deflected shot past MHC keeper Rich Branding. Branding, by the way, was excellent, really excellent, for Granite City throughout the season and in particular during last weekend's regional tournament.

"Branding made some fine saves for us today," Mendoza said. "He played well... everyone played well."

Mendoza paused for a moment, thinking about what he just said. Then, out loud, he began recalling some of the action from the game.

"That Eavor," Mendoza said of Steve Trittichuh. "He's quite a player. He can really really get up there," he said referring to Trittichuh's leaping ability.

Trittichuh put that leaping ability to good use in Saturday's semifinal match as he scored two of MHC's five goals on leaping head shots.

Mendoza continued:

"Billy (Hency) played well, too."

"Hency seems to play with a lot of intensity," someone said who was listening to the conversation.

"He sure does said another."

It wasn't long before Mendoza began recalling something that was listening to the conversation.

"Nathan, you played a heck of a game," Mendoza said to Nathan Crane, an MHC forward who was within distance.

"I thought that header you attempted in the first half was in for sure," said Sam Mendoza, another forward.

"I thought for sure that one was going in," the younger Mendoza lamented.

Crane's shot, which was set up by Scott Vickers, came 13:46 into the first half. The shot caught Missouri keeper Steve Fuchs out of position, for a clear save, but Fuchs, the talented keeper he is still managed to get a hand on the ball and deflect it over the back of the goal.

As the MHC coach continued, it became increasingly clearer why he prides himself on the team's performance.

"It was a total team effort. We haven't any star. This is a well-balanced, talented team," Mendoza said.

Mendoza wasn't the only one who thought a lot of the Illinois McGuire Cup champions. Dan Gaffney, Missouri coach, was equally impressed.

"They are an excellent ball controlling team," Gaffney said. "They have a lot of talent and depth to go with that talent. I'm just glad we came out on the winning end." Gaffney said.

One reason the Missouri club finished on top was its shots on goal. Gallagher out shot the MHC 19-15, although Granite City managed five corners kicks, two more than their Missouri counterparts.

Branding was credited with 10 saves in the contest while Missouri totalled half as many.

In other competition, Kansas managed a 5-3 victory over Ohio-North to finish third in the Midwest, while St. Louis' under 19 girls' team also advanced to the national championship with a 7-5 victory over the Ohio-South squad.

Nationals issue two losses to Chiefs

EDWARDSVILLE — It might have been the heat or it might have been the opposition, but something separated the men from the boys in Sunday's Inter-City league doubleheader between the Granite City Chiefs and the Edwardsville Nationals.

Edwardsville used solid hitting, good pitching and more experience to telling effect as they swept the Chiefs, 8-1 and 5-1.

"If it wasn't for bad luck, we wouldn't have any luck at all," lamented Dennis Gurkin, coach of the Chiefs. Indeed, the bounces mostly went Edwardsville's way throughout the afternoon.

The day began with some promise for Granite City as they scored in the top of the first inning. Shortstop Matt Roe singled and stole second to lead off the inning. Then, with two out, he scored. Center fielder Mike MacPherson's single to give the Chiefs a 1-0 lead. But, it turned out to be the only run the Granite City squad would score that game.

Edwardsville bounced back in the bottom half of the inning to tie it up. Right fielder John Wood led off with a single and stole second. Center fielder Jamie Semminis followed with a grounder to third base. Chief third sacker Tom Settles gunned Semminis down at first, but Wood lit off for third base. First baseman Denny Gurkin threw wildly to third and Wood scored.

Following that, it was all Edwardsville in the first match. National first baseman Bryan Kabbes drove in two runs with a second-inning double and Semminis added an RBI with a sacrifice fly in that frame to make the score 4-1.

The Nationals added a run in each inning thereafter. Catcher Rich Fletcher singled home a run in the third. Left fielder Greg Steiner scored on a passed ball in the fourth. Kabbes got his third RBI with a sacrifice fly in the fifth and designated hitter Rusty Burian's sacrifice fly in the sixth rounded out the score at 8-1.

The Chiefs only managed two hits after the first inning and four overall. National hurler Glenn Murphy. Murphy struck out two and walked none, but he hit two batters.

Leftfielder Mike Zukas of the Chiefs pitched well, but received little support from his defense. Edwardsville scored all their runs on just six hits. Zukas walked four and struck out two, but his first strikeout went for naught as the ball got away from catcher Bruce Nation and the batter was safe at first. In addition, one of the walks followed a dropped foul ball by Nation. The Chiefs committed seven errors in all.

The Chiefs played a more respectable game in the nightcap, but still came up short. Once again, they managed only four hits and one run, this time off National lefty Pat Braun.

Braun was overpowering, striking out 11 while walking only two. The only run he gave up was unearned.

Edwardsville got two runs in the bottom of the first. Wood walked to lead off, moved to second on an errant MacPiff throw by Chief starter MacPifferson, stole third and scored on a sacrifice fly by Kabbes. Shortstop Dan Altieri walked from two out, went to third on a single by second baseman Bruce Pfeiffer and scored on a passed ball.

Once again, the Chiefs received good pitching, but were hurt by their defense. Granite City's three errors in the second contest, however, showed an improvement over their performance in the first.

In the bottom of the third, Semminis reached base on an error by Roe. Kabbes doubled, sending him to third. Semminis scored on Pfeiffer's sacrifice fly and Kabbes came home on Pfeiffer's double.

The Chiefs got their lone tally in the top of the fifth, when second baseman Rob Ficker led off with a fly to right. Wood dropped the ball for a two-base error. Ficker scored one out later on a clean single up the middle by center fielder Rufus Valencia.

The Chiefs brought in reliever Darrell Harris to pitch in the bottom of the fifth. MacPherson gave up just four hits and four runs in his four-inning stretch. He walked three and struck out two, but he was also victimized by a third strike that got away from catcher Jeff Dalton.

Harris gave up a run in the fifth when Kabbes was awarded first base because of catcher's interference. He went to second on a single by Pfeiffer and scored on a single by Pfeiffer.

In two innings, Harris gave up two hits and one run. He walked none and struck out one.

Joe Mueller, coach of the Nationals, said, "The Chiefs have a young club. If the coach keeps working with them, they'll get better. That's how we built our club."

Gurkin pointed out that his players range in age from 16 to 18. "We're just a first-year team," he said. "We hope to get a lot better."

His team got a taste of some rough action as several National runners slid hard into home plate. "We're playing in a men's league," Gurkin said. "You have to expect that. It was clean ball. That's how the game is played in this league."

In an Inter-City baseball league game played Sunday, McDonald's beat Maryville 11-7. The game was played at Granite City North's High School diamond.

McDonald's scored five runs in the first, two in the second, and four in the sixth in a game in which they never trailed.

Keith Burton, who was the winning pitcher, allowed nine hits and four runs, walking only two and striking out four.

Losing pitcher, Chuck Lozier, allowed 13 hits, 11 runs, including two home runs. He walked five, and struck out four.

Lewis to attend Midwest Meet of Champions

Madison High School's John Lewis, who finished third in the IHSA Class A high jump finals, will be advancing to the Midwest Senior Meet of Champions this Saturday in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Lewis is one of four Metro-East area athletes advancing to the meet. Two athletes from East St. Louis Lincoln and one from East St. Louis (Sr.) are also advancing to the Midwest meet.

Lewis finished third at Saturday's Illinois Senior Meet of Champions held at Champion Centennial High School. He jumped 6-6 to advance to the Midwest meet.

Tom Stitt of Lisle, who won the Class A high jump title, won the event with 6-10, edging Mike Vuckovich of Maine South. Stitt had fewer misses than Vuckovich, who finished third in the Class AA high jump.

According to Madison track coach Charles Steptoe, Lewis pulled a neck muscle while jumping 6-6 and could not go any higher after that.

"He was over 6-8, but he knocked it down with his legs," Steptoe said.

Lewis is the second Madison athlete to qualify for the Midwest Senior Meet of Champions, but he will be the first Trojan to actually participate in the meet. Earnest Davenport earned the chance to go in the 400 meter dash, but could not attend the meet.

Lewis did not participate in the triple jump at Champaign. Dedrick Flowers of Lincoln ran the 1600 meters in 4:10.6 to advance as did Lincoln's Victor Johnson, who threw the shot put 58-3. Vincent Ray of East St. Louis ran the 800 meters in 1:56.5 to advance to the meet.

The meet will be held at Spiller Stadium at Northrup High School in Fort Wayne. The meet begins at 12:30 p.m.

Harry Lang, Granite City North's track coach, will be an assistant coach for the Illinois team this year. Forty athletes from throughout the state are on the team.

Last year, Lang was the head coach for the Illinois team.

Rain delays Sectional

GRANITE CITY — Because of heavy rains which hit the Granite City area late Thursday and early Friday, Saturday's first round games in the Granite City South Class AA Baseball Sectional tournament were pushed back to today (Monday).

The first game, Edwardsville (29-12) vs. Murphysboro (15-7), was to be played at 11 a.m. today. The second game, Collinsville (18-8) vs. O'Fallon (31-4) will be played following the Edwardsville-Murphysboro game at approximately 1 p.m.

The championship game will be played Tuesday at 11 a.m.

All three games will be played at the Granite City South varsity diamond.

AHRA Gateway Nationals slated for June 24-26

The AHRA Gateway Nationals return to St. Louis International Raceway for three full days of racing action, June 24, 25, and 26.

Over 500 race cars will be on hand to compete for over $200,000 in cash and awards.

Drag racing, the sport born in the post war years, was spawned by the love affair of a man and his mistress, the automobile. As such, it remains the only form of auto racing that originated in the United States.

Unique also to drag racing is the fact that each spectator has the option of purchasing a pit pass and joining the racers in the pits. This enables them to capture the full flavor of professional drag racing.

They are able to see their favorite racing star repair a fine tune their machine as well as plot racing strategy. Most of the professionals also have available free color photos to give away and autograph.

Drag racing also lays claim to the most powerful internal combustion racing machines in the world. The ultimate velocity vehicles of Top Fuel and Fuel Funny Car boast of 3,000 horsepower compared to USAC championship Indy-type racers at 800 horsepower. The unleashing of this power is an assault on the senses that must be seen, heard and felt to be believed.

Gates will open on Friday, June 24, and Saturday, June 25, at 10 a.m. Sunday, June 26, the gates will open at 11 a.m. and the final pro eliminations will begin at 4 p.m.

Musial: A man of his word

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

Everyone has his or her story to illustrate what a real nice guy that Stan (the Man) Musial was and is.

I have two stories about Stash, but I'll keep this column to just one; the other deserves full coverage by itself.

Way back there in early 1944, Musial was in the United States Navy. He was a buddy with Dale Guenzoni of nearby (just north of Granite City) Bend, Ill.

As men often do under the stress of war, Stan made a pledge to Dale: "If we both survive this war, I promise you that I'll come to your town and speak at that big dinner you all hold every December." For years, the sports-minded fans of Bend have put on a banquet honoring its athletic heroes. It is annual is a "really big night."

So, in early December of 1946, shortly after Musial and his St. Louis Cardinal buddies had upset the awesome and might Boston Red Sox and the Splendid Splinter but also stubborn Ted Williams in seven games, Stan Musial finally fulfilled his pledge to his Bend buddy, Dale Guenzoni, now a funeral director in his hometown.

The way I got into the story was thus: 1946 was the first year of the St. Louis Star-Times "Prep Football Player-of-the-Year."

Our first winner was Corky Bellers, a shifty and brilliant left halfback from South St. Louis' St. Mary's High. Two of the 14 candidates for the honor was Granite City's Bill Schooley and Belleville's Bob Goolby, who the latter went on to fame as a golfer.

One day in early December of 1946, Sid

Keener and myself left the Star-Times to head down to St. Mary's to present Corky Bellers with his trophy at an auditorium session of the Green Dragons student body.

We left the Star and looked for a taxi in front of the old Illinois Traction Railroad station (now the building which houses the St. Louis Globe-Democrat).

But, we is us: there wasn't a cab in sight. So Mr. Keener and I headed south down 12th Boulevard (now Tucker Blvd.) toward the Jefferson Hotel. As always from late October through most of March, the wind blows cold like it's just degrees south of the Arctic Circle down 12th Street.

So, as we neared the Jefferson, some bloody fellow blocked my path. And, as I, with my face down to escape any further blasts, futilely attempted to dodge the guy who was blocking my passage, I came up madly screaming: "Will you kindly (expletive deleted) get your butt out of my way." When to my delight, I saw, to my delight, that it was Musial playfully blocking my way. I quickly asked him what he was doing in St. Louis. He said that he was on his way to Bend to fulfill his wartime promise to his Navy buddy.

He'd paid his own way on a commercial plane from Donora, Pa., down into Lambert Airport, rode the limo into the Jefferson and was walking over to catch the electric train (a real Toonerville Trolley) up to Bend, all at his own expense.

That's being a real friend and one devil of a great guy.

Spanky's split weekend twinbills; record now 8-2

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

The 7-up/Spanky's baseball team ran its record to 8-2 over the weekend with a two-two split on the road in Arkansas, splitting with the Fort Smith Red Sox, 5-6 and 10-7, in a Saturday twinbill and dividing a pair yesterday (Sunday) at Conway, winning the leadoff game, 4-3, and dropping the nightcap, 8-7, after leading most of that contest.

Coach Eldon Warfield's aggregation will return to local action Tuesday night when they'll host St. Belleville Merchants in a 7-45 game at Granite City's South field.

In fact, I'll be a near-major league schedule for the 7-up/Spanky's this week: Thursday, they'll entertain the St. Louis Browns in a 7-45 p.m. game at Edwardsville's Hoppe Park; Friday, they'll return to Granite City South for a 7-45 encounter against Conway County Arkansas; Saturday, it'll be a single game with the Cape Girardeau Capahs at Edwardsville's Hoppe, and Sunday, they'll entertain the Capahs at the Coanigan's diamond at Southeastern Illinois University at Edwardsville starting at 1 p.m.

Utility infielder Jackie Baugher, star of the SIUE nine for the past two seasons, continued his line by hitting for the 7-up/Spanky's team. The Tammis, Ill. native came through with a two-run single to win Sunday's first game down in Arkansas, as he drove in the tying and winning runs.

Warfield was disappointed in his charges' day in Sunday's second game, but understanding: "We had a seven-run lead after our 12th six times at bat and then three costly errors . . . all part of baseball, of course, cost us the victory," he explained.

He added: "Both Fort Smith and Conway are in the Top Ten of National Baseball Congress teams in the entire United States. In fact, Conway is in the process of changing their name to The Arkansas Pride."

AUTO SPINS, TWO DRIVERS ARE HURT

As Jody R. Fenton, 20, of 2416 Grand Ave. drove south in the 2800 block of Madison Avenue while it was raining at 11:25 a.m. Thursday, his auto spun into a northbound lane and its right side hit the front of the car of Mary Kravac, 33, of 3220 Bluebird Lane.

She was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center with multiple injuries and Fenton obtained treatment there for cuts and bruises. He was charged with driving too fast for road conditions. Both autos were towed away.

Social Security aids many disabled people

People don't like to think about it, but it happens: An accident at work or on the way home. Or a prolonged illness that drains family savings.

For more than a quarter of a century, Social Security has provided basic protection against severe disability for millions of Americans. It works when people can't, by replacing part of the family's lost income.

Eligible for monthly payments are disabled workers and dependents, disabled widows and widowers, and unmarried children 18 or older who become severely disabled before 22.

Disabled beneficiaries also have Medicare coverage after receiving benefits for 24 months.

A disabled worker first must have worked long enough under Social Security — 1½ to 5 years in 1983, depending on age — to be insured. And except for blind workers, some credits must have been earned in recent years.

Applicants are asked to be aware that Social Security's medical requirements are stricter than for most other disability programs, and only about one-third of initial claims are allowed. A person generally must be unable to do not only his or her usual job but also any "substantial gainful work" for at least a year.

A spokesman says, "If you think you may be eligible, contact the East St. Louis Social Security office, 274-

Enlist Beach Boys, Charlie Daniels Band for VP weekend jam

The V.P. Fair Foundation has announced the Beach Boys will be the feature attraction at the 1983 Grand Slam Summer Jam on Sunday, July 3, at Busch Memorial Stadium.

The Beach Boys will be appearing in five different U.S. Cities during the Fourth of July weekend and they are enthusiastic about returning to St. Louis after their record-breaking performance at the 1982 V.P. Fair, a spokesman said.

Supporting the Beach Boys will be the Charlie Daniels Band along with Foghat and another artist to be announced soon. The Grand Slam Summer Jam is being presented by the V.P. Fair Foundation and produced by Contemporary Productions.

House okays small business division

The Illinois House has approved legislation supported by Rep. Sam W. Wolf of Granite City to create a Small Business Division within the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

"As a major force in the creation of new jobs, small businesses will play a critical role in our economic recovery," Wolf commented.

"The increase in business failures and in unemployment have taught us some bitter lessons concerning the need to protect small firms' interests."

"It is imperative that the state create and economic environment favorable to promoting and preserving small business. I believe this legislation will help in achieving that goal."

"House Bill 238 would create a new division within DCCA to coordinate all state efforts on behalf of small businesses; to provide necessary technical assistance, analysis and research on small business issues; and to conduct educational seminars on the financing, management and operation of small businesses."

"An advisory council of ten representatives of small firms would oversee the operations and policies of the Small Business Division."

One of the most common complaints of businessmen is that there is no one office to which they can go for help and advice," Wolf concluded. "We want to create one such office that will be able to offer a comprehensive range of services specifically for small companies."

Seek early word on crop programs
Senator Alan J. Dixon has written U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block urging him to make an early announcement of 1984 crop programs.

Dixon, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, noted that farmers will soon be making planting and purchasing decisions for the 1984 crop year. He stressed the need for an early announcement by USDA to enable farmers to plan for the fall season.

"Of particular concern is the economic stability and viability of agribusiness and farmers' support industries adversely affected by the 1983 payment-in-kind program. The economic health of these support industries must be maintained to protect both jobs and the economic vigor of rural communities," Sen. Dixon said.

He asked that Block announce the 1984 wheat program by the middle of this month and the 1984 feed grain program by Aug. 15, 1983.

"Decisions of farmers for the '84 crop year will be based in part on the commodity programs," Dixon said. "Early announcement will enable farmers to plan adequately and will help preserve their vital input industries through these challenging times."

Big Band concert series opens with the Big Band Machine Wednesday

The Granite City Park District will offer a series of six "Big Band" concerts this summer in the various local parks, each starting at 7:30 p.m. The first concert in the series will be Wednesday, June 8, at 27th Street and Delmar Avenue in Wilson Park.

The concerts are presented free to the public by the Granite City Park District with support from the Music Performance Trust Fund, American Federation of Musicians, Local 717.

Drummer-band leader, Stan Fornasewski, will be featured with his 16-piece band called, the "Big Band Machine," Wednesday.

"The band has really been practicing a lot for these upcoming summer concerts and we hope everyone that likes the big band sound will come out this summer to hear the band. We've added a lot of new music to play this year, especially pieces from the Big Band Era, as well as some of the newer contemporary pieces," Fornasewski said.

Park Superintendent Dave Nolan said, "this is our third season for the Big Band series and we're expecting a good turnout as always. The audiences really do seem to enjoy them, that's why we've expanded them to six concerts this year, compared to the five as before."

"The park district will again provide seating on a first-come, first-served basis, and patrons are welcome to bring their own lawnchairs if they prefer," he added.

John Fornasewski will serve as master of ceremonies for the concerts, and singer Cheryl Thomason will provide the vocals for the band.

In addition to June 8, the remaining concert dates and locations are: Tuesday, June 21, Stearns Park, Amos and Franklin avenues; Thursday, July 7, Wilson Park; Wednesday, July 20, at Lincoln Place Community Center Park, 822 Niedringhaus Ave.; Wednesday,

August 10, Worthen Park, Maryville Road and Parkview Drive; Wednesday, August 24, Wilson Park. The public is invited to attend these "Big Bands Concerts" without charge. All

Local groups sponsor teens in regional Operation Snowball

Several local groups sponsored teens in the Region IV Operation Snowball April 8 to 10 at the Lake Salateenka Camp in Pinckneyville, Ill. This experimental and educational peer leadership program was modeled after the Illinois Teenage Institute on Substance Abuse, and was coordinated by AID, Inc. of Collinsville, in cooperation with the Illinois Alcoholism and Drug Dependence Association.

Region IV Operation Snowball was sponsored by the Belleville News Democrat. This Operation Snowball program brought together teenagers from the counties of Madison, St. Clair, Bond and Randolph, Clinton, Bond and Randolph and professional resources to explore issues and examine feelings about alcohol and drug misuse and related life problems. Ninety-one youth (including 17 youth staff) and 21 adults attended the Snowball weekend.

Snowball was founded on the belief that every human being has the capacity to make sound decisions regarding his or her own life, based on accurate information and an understanding of one's self and motivations. Activities at the Snowball weekend included lectures and small group discussions about relationships, self-concept, drug and alcohol abuse, being a teenager today, and how to use the information received at the weekend in the participants' home communities.

This program allowed the participants to grow and to learn how they can help others in their communities. The cost of the program was $60 per participant and included meals, transportation to and from the camp, lodging, materials, tuition, and a tee-shirt.

Scholarship providers and Operation Snowball participants who attended on those scholarships included: AMVETS Post 244 sponsoring Darryl Shipp of Madison; The Granite City Breakfast Kiwanis sponsoring Inger Gustafsson of Granite City; The Madison Minerva Reading Club sponsoring Marie Meyer of Madison and the Madison Federation of Teachers sponsoring Angela Shepard of Madison.

GRANITE CITY TRUST

Q: Is there such a thing as a QTIP trust? What is it?

A: Yes. There is such a thing as a QTIP trust, and it probably isn't what your immediate reaction might tell you it is. A QTIP trust is a device used in the will of a husband or wife to leave money to a surviving spouse. For example, instead of leaving his money directly to his wife, a husband may direct the funds go to a QTIP trust, and that a bank he designates be the trustee. The bank holds the money and invests it, giving the surviving spouse the income each year, and, perhaps, some of the principal. The husband will also name the persons to whom the remaining money should go, in the event of his wife's death. This is valuable in second marriages wherein a husband can protect his wife through her lifetime, and know his children will become beneficiaries of the trust upon her death. QTIP, by the way, stands for Qualified Terminable Interest Property.

"There is considerable and consistent research evidence that...more creativity, individualization, group activity, interpersonal regard...occur more frequently in smaller classes than in larger classes."

IN LOVING memory of JIMMY MCKINNEY, June 3, 1977. Some have a lifetime, some a day. Love isn't something you measure that way. It's not how long the spring, it's not how blue the sky, just how sweet the time between hello and goodbye. Deeply missed by Mom, Dad and Sisters. 32 6 6

Pleads guilty in battery case

Thomas M. Bauer, 48, of 2625 Lincoln Ave., pleaded guilty to battery in a court appearance last week in Granite City. He was fined $345 and released.

The charge resulted from an incident at his home, where police were called to a disturbance and allegedly found Bauer's wife, Joyce, with a loaded .44-caliber magnum revolver. She turned the weapon over to officers.

Mrs. Bauer alleged her husband came home and began slapping her in the face, tried to choke her and a fight ensued. She got the gun after he allegedly made further threats, she said.

NOW vows to fight current laws; seeks new child support legislation

By NANCY WEIL of the Press-Record

Janice Stanfill is past the point of anger. Nine years she has endured meaningless court proceedings to obtain child support payments from her ex-husband.

Her efforts have produced huge lawyer's bills, but scant support for her son. She is not alone; millions of women contend with the same problem.

How a woman can afford huge lawyer's fees when she is barely able to support herself and her children is a paradox — one that Mrs. Stanfill seeks to alter.

As chairwoman of the child support enforcement task force and treasurer of the Tri-Cities chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW), Stanfill of Edwardsville, along with other NOW members, has researched the child support issue for nine months. The findings have been grim.

Child support laws are not enforced. Support payments are usually the last bill a man will pay for a variety of reasons — or for no reason at all. Out of sight, out of mind, Mrs. Stanfill says.

An estimated two million fathers do not pay all or part of child support. Many women who do not receive support payments are forced into welfare rolls. More than $8 billion in welfare costs are directly attributed to nonpayment of child support.

Oddly, many people believe that improving child support laws would increase taxes, Mrs. Stanfill says. People do not realize how much tax money would be saved by making support laws stricter, thereby allowing many women to stop seeking assistance, she adds.

Enforcement of the current system, because there is no uniformity in legislation among the 50 states. While one state might strictly enforce laws, another could move to a different state and find the laws are not enforced, freeing him of his support responsibility.

Illinois has one of the worst track records for child support payments, with laws rarely being enforced, Mrs. Stanfill says.

In an effort to change the laws, NOW has been talking to legislators and Public Aid officials to determine what can be done. However, NOW members would be the first to admit that new laws will not make any difference, unless they are enforced.

Proposed bills would amend several acts, including the Paternity Act, the Dissolution of Marriage Act, and the Unemployment Insurance Act.

The proposal to amend the Illinois Marriage and Dissolution of Marriage Act would require that support payments be made to the clerk of the court, who would then issue a check to the mother. Essentially, the state would be taking responsibility to make certain the check was good and the payment cleared.

That legislation is, perhaps, the single most crucial bill under consideration because it forces the father to answer to a county official, and not just to his ex-wife and children.

Mrs. Stanfill also would like to see wage assignments placed on those who do not pay child support, meaning that the payment would be withheld from the father's paycheck before he even receives it.

Wage assignments are, however, difficult to obtain and involve a multitude of red tape and time.

All the proposals, taken together, possibly could make a difference, but Mrs. Stanfill says it is imperative that the various county judges comprehend the magnitude of the non-payment dilemma before anything will be effective.

A woman could appear before a different judge each time she goes to court seeking child support payments. Some judges are sympathetic to the woman, while others will order support be paid and then do nothing to enforce the order, and others simply don't care, Mrs. Stanfill contends.

NOW, in conjunction with the proposed bills, is implementing an educational system about child support and the system believes that judges must be included in that process. A system of monitoring judges is planned by NOW. Monitoring judges is planned by NOW. Monitoring judges is planned by NOW.

Basically, judges give fathers a choice about child support when the law is not enforced, Mrs. Stanfill says.

And, when fathers are not forced to make support payments, the children often suffer emotionally, she says.

In her own case, "it was a problem from the beginning. Immediately, you've cut down your standard of living, because there's never anything you can depend upon (financially)," she says.

The outcome is "very damaging" to the children involved, Mrs. Stanfill says. She tried to keep the problem from her children, but "it goes on and there's no way they won't know what's happening."

"They feel stuck in the middle because they never really understand why. There's no money and they see that too," she says.

The situation makes it difficult for the children to maintain a "truly close relationship" with their father, Mrs. Stanfill says.

Obedience to the law is one aspect of the non-support problem, but responsibility legal responsibility to support their children, even if they do not feel responsible biologically or emotionally, she says. "Laziness is done to them if they don't pay child support than if they're not making payments for a car," she says.

Shakes her head with disgust. "The problem is not just that of women — everybody suffers, because of the increase in the welfare rolls. Mrs. Stanfill cites the common opinion that if a woman is not receiving child support payments she simply is not trying hard enough. "Most people, unless they are personally involved, know very little about the problem," she says. People will, however, assume that a woman is not trying.

Then there is the myth that women always get a large settlement in a divorce — something that is not true in the majority of cases, she contends.

Other myths are involved, including the notion that women on welfare are to be supported by the government. While Mrs. Stanfill admits that a certain number of women with children would remain on welfare, even if they received child support payments, she says that the majority of those forced to seek assistance would not normally do so.

The Illinois Department of Public Aid, through which assistance is channeled, has not been effective in altering the myth for several reasons. First of all, most people believe that the department only gives out aid, while, in actuality, it performs a variety of functions, including assistance to women who have no money to battle for support in court.

"If you're not getting child support, then you're broke. How can you afford a lawyer?" she asks. "Besides, you haven't time to pay a dime. You haven't done anything illegal. It's your ex-husband who broke a court order," she says angrily.

As part of the educational process, NOW is having a workshop Saturday, June 11, at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Religious Center.

There is no registration required and the workshop is free and open to the public. Child care and transportation will be provided. Those wishing child care or transportation are being asked to call Mrs. Stanfill at 1-656-5149 by Tuesday. Interested persons can call collect.

The workshop will focus on current laws, proposed legislation, how to effectively seek payments and the education of judges.

Further, NOW will be canvassing the Tri-Cities area with petitions concerning child support legislation. A previous petition drive was successful, NOW members say.

Despite workshops, petition drives and educational seminars, the battle is far from over. Women must group together to obtain fairer laws, Mrs. Stanfill says.

The problem is that most women do not fully comprehend the issue until it happens to them. For those who do experience non-support problems, they usually take the road of Janice Stanfill.

Many women also, like Janice Stanfill, become angry. Some decide not to fight it any longer and eventually give up.

But for Mrs. Stanfill, when the anger subsided she reached a new phase, where she decided that even if changes might not be made before her children were grown, she would fight for them.

The struggle has only begun.

Dismissal of charges against Barton appealed

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber has appealed the dismissal of charges against county supervisor of assessments James Barton of Granite City.

The notice of appeal — asking that the charges be reinstated — was filed with the Fifth District Appellate Court in Mount Vernon, Ill.

Prosecutorial misconduct by Weber was cited last month when Associate Judge Edward G. Ferguson dismissed bribery, conspiracy and official misconduct charges against Barton.

Ferguson ruled that Weber's handling of the case, including statements made in public and the press about Barton, precluded a fair trial.

Weber argued that a change of venue should have been granted if the judge believed a fair trial could not be guaranteed in this county.

Barton is not related to Granite City realtor Bob Barton.

There will be a cash bar. Host Mayor Ken Evers has arranged for a buffet dinner and will be dancing from 8 to 11 p.m. with Joey James and his Orchestra.

For reservations, interested persons may mail checks and lists to Doris Neuhaus, 88 Glen Echo Dr., Glen Carbon, Ill. 62034, or call 1-288-5889. Reservations must be made by Friday, June 17.

ANOTHER LIFE

'Dukes of Hazzard' has a famous fan

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — Because Kirk Douglas is either a "Dukes of Hazzard" fan or a very smooth liar, he saved John Schneider's nerves from frizzling.

The fact that he's a very nice gentleman also helped.

"If I'd met him for the first time on the set of 'Eddie Macon's Run,' I would have been terribly nervous, I think," says John, whose first feature film, co-starring Douglas, was released recently.

"But we met earlier in Palm Springs and I found that he's a wonderfully warm person. I talked about 'Spartacus' and 'The War Wagon' and some of his pictures, and he talked about the album I had out and 'The Dukes of Hazzard.'"

Kirk Douglas really does watch "The Dukes of Hazzard?"

"Well, that's the impression I got," John says.

In "Eddie Macon's Run," Schneider plays a young man falsely convicted of a crime. Douglas plays a cop with a blemished record trying to redeem himself.

The movie was shot in Laredo, Texas, on the Mexican border, scarcely Beverly Hills South but, according to John, a town outgoing and friendly as Douglas proved to be.

"Everyone treated us hospitably," Schneider reports. "I had some of the best chili there I've ever eaten."

When Douglas tunes in to "The Dukes of Hazzard," he's no doubt happy to find John and Tom Wopat tearing around once more in the General Lee.

And Schneider, after his protracted walkout over a disagreement with Warner, is content to be back in the series that made him important enough to get the "Eddie Macon" role.

He's not interested in rehabbing old grievances, claiming, "Everybody won this argument."

Yet he adds, "The stand I took brought me tremendous respect from the industry."

"We did what nobody in Hollywood has done for a long time."

What John and Tom did was bring a giant to heel, since young actors drummed up to replace them in "The Dukes of Hazzard" simply didn't cut the mustard.

Asked what the look-alikes recruited as replacements in the show are doing, Schneider confesses that he doesn't know.

"I haven't seen them."

While his walk-away from the television series encouraged John to consider other outlets for his talents, he says he would have "turned to other fields anyway."

He's always been interested in music and, like any actor with common sense, he's been equally interested in making films.

Excellent movie scripts are coming his way, he says, "as good as 'Eddie Macon's Run.'"

He has another record album, released May 1, called "Good Old Country Music," which he helped produce, and he's extremely proud of it.

The bass and piano players who worked for Elvis are in the group backing him as he warbles songs written by Michael Stanton.

After describing the album material as "all Country style," John is asked how he defines "Country" and is hard put to answer.

"Well," he finally decides, "Country songs all tell stories. You learn something from them about real folks and real relationships. And they are easy to listen to."

Unlike the majority of Country singers, Schneider didn't grow up in poverty. He calls his background lower-middle class. But he refuses to consider this a handicap.

Naturally he's been party to a romance or two. Currently his interest is Tawny Little, anchorwoman at a Los Angeles television station.

They've known each other for about six months, and when John speaks of her he sounds like Bo Duke talking about his car.

Jeff Kanew, writer/director of "Eddie Macon's Run," found similarities between Schneider and Douglas despite differences in their ages and experience.

After praising Douglas' technique and professionalism, he says, that John, through working in a fast-paced, weekly television show, has gained "a similar level of craftsmanship."

He also says, "They are both in terrific physical shape."

RETURN WITH US TO ...

ROBERT STACK

AMERICA HAS ALWAYS NEEDED HEROES AND NO MODERN ACTOR BETTER TYPIFIED THE TRADITIONAL SET-JAWED, MAN OF PRINCIPLE THAN ROBERT STACK. HE BROKE INTO FILMS IN 1933 AT THE AGE OF 20.

MOST OF HIS MOVIES WERE OF GOOD QUALITY BUT NONE TURNED OUT TO BE A MILESTONE AND HE REMAINED A STEP BELOW SUPER-STAR STATUS. THEN IN 1955 HE GOT A BIG BREAK, PLAYING ELIOT NESS IN THE SCARFACE MOVIE. IT WAS A PILOT FOR THE TV SERIES THE UNTOUCHABLES, A HIT SHOW THAT BROUGHT ROBERT STACK BIG MONEY AND LASTING FAME.
